SCIOinspire Establishes Board of Advisors

Industry luminaries will offer a "360-degree" perspective on issues impacting healthcare payers and providers, and play a key role in shaping the organization's strategic agenda

Hartford, CT – April 15, 2011 – SCIOinspire, Corp., a leading independent provider of cost-containment and quality-improvement solutions for healthcare payers and providers, today announced the establishment of a strategically focused Board of Advisors. Composed of seasoned, forward-thinking thought leaders representing diverse industry interests, the board will play an important role in steering the company in its effort to align product and service offerings with the dynamic needs of the marketplace.

Working closely with SCIOinspire's executive management team, the Board of Advisors will be tasked with helping to shape the firm's strategic agenda and serving as the organization's "ears to the ground" to identify obstacles and opportunities for growth. Among others, the SCIOinspire Board of Advisors includes the following industry veterans:

- Dennis Bishop, President, Holmes Murphy
- Roderick B. Cruickshank, RHU, President and Managing Shareholder, The Partners Group, LTD
- Gus P. Georgiadis, President, Triad USA
- Robert Goodman, CEO and Chairman, Generations Health Partners, Inc.
- Howard S. Gruverman, Managing Principal, Edify, LLC
- John Kahle, Senior Vice President and Chief Wellness Officer, Intercare Insurance Solutions, LLC
- Michael Lazur, Former Executive VP, Chief Creative Officer Worldwide/North American Regional Director, McCann-Erickson
- Jack Mahoney, M.D., Retired Corporate Medical Director, Pitney Bowes
- Eric Raymond, Former Founder and CEO, Corporate Synergies
- Robert Relph, CEO, Relph Benefit Advisors
- Christopher Valerian, M.D., President, M & E Management, LLC

"We are fortunate to be able to enlist the talents and diverse expertise of this Board of Advisors," says Siva Namasivayam, CEO of SCIOinspire. "Each brings a critical perspective to the forces at work in the healthcare marketplace – particularly with respect to employers and providers. The insights and ideas each can contribute will enable us to provide better service and products to our health plan clients, and address the clinical and administrative challenges they are grappling with today and in the years to come."

"Healthcare payer and provider markets continue to evolve and will require innovative solutions to facilitate cost containment and quality improvement initiatives," says Howard Gruverman "The SCIOinspire leadership team has demonstrated its commitment to delivering high caliber, high impact solutions. It is a great honor for me to work closely with them and other renowned professionals to seek answers to the mounting questions facing payers and providers in the current healthcare environment."
